

A FREE SPACE

In a free space there are no borders fixed thus there is plenty of space for every individual to have her own royaume and be the principal royal.

An individual in free space is fully entitled to create or imagine anything and everything and be, do and have abundantly.

In free space the truth is not withheld. There are no arbitrary controls and there is no coercion in free space

There is no domination in free space. Free space can be orderly, without legalities, or taxation, it being under auspices of free and responsible beings.

Free and responsible beings, follow their own purposes and decide by and for themselves whether to enter or leave a game or agreement or not.

One is free to move in free space. All live there on the basis of understanding with free will to play with cause and effect.

Inhabitants are aware of each other, envisioning possible contributions to others. deciding what to do on their own and in communities

There is no scarcity in free space individuals and/or communities are free to provide free water, food, energy, holistic cures, shelter and knowledge

Education is the exploration of innate creative potentials, encouraging discovery, acquiring and developing knowledge and skills

Free space will stay free as long as those who live in free space keep it free and are free to leave others free.

'The price of freedom is responsibility and eternal vigilance'.
